A Burton man stepped into the recording studio in December 1971 to record a song about Woodsy Owl, a symbol associated with the 'Give a Hoot, Don't Pollute' campaign.

The musician who came to Michigan because of his wife's roots shares the "Woodsy Owl" song most call "Give A Hoot, Don't Pollute' online. And though the emphasis of Woodsy now is "Lend a hand, improve the land," the 'give a hoot' song remains a favorite of many 30 and older.

In 1971, "Who You Gonna Be When You Grow Up?" was recorded on the flip side of the 45 original "Woodsy Owl." It was re-recorded in 2006 as a birthday gift for Gordon Elliott of the Food Network, whom Dave Kimber worked with in Austrailia. Flint New Jerusalem Gospel Choir did the vocal backups in the 2006 recording.
